Darren has been practicing law in both Connecticut and New York courts since his graduation from the University of New Hampshire School of Law in 1995.

He started his career at a prominent insurance defense firm in Connecticut, where he built a reputation as a vigorous advocate handling various types of liability claims, including personal injury, medical malpractice, legal malpractice, products liability and commercial litigation.

In 2000, he entered the field of insurance, defending and prosecuting declaratory judgment lawsuits for insurance carriers, and representing insurance agents and brokers in connection with various types of claims. Darren is an experienced trial attorney, handling matters from the pre-litigation phase, through trial and appeal. He has been involved in engineering complex settlements in high exposure litigation. Insurance carriers frequently consult him for his opinion on complicated insurance coverage issues.
