Robert attended Fordham University School of Law, where he was an associate editor on the Fordham Intellectual Property, Media and Entertainment Law Journal. When he began practicing law in 2006, Robert worked at a New York law firm handling cases involving employment and commercial litigation as well as malpractice actions. He also handled non-litigated labor and contract disputes. He joined Keidel, Weldon & Cunningham in 2010. Since that time, he has focused his practice on handling complex insurance coverage disputes, representing insurance agents and brokers in liability actions and handling regulatory compliance issues faced by insurance agents and brokers. Robert is also very involved in the firm's appellate practice.
